

6th Grade Social Studies Course Description

6th Grade Social Studies consists of studies of both world history and geography. This is intended as a comprehensive course in world culture and civilization, giving an overview of how people have lived on earth for several thousand years and the ways in which these various groups of people developed what we call civilizations. Students will be introduced to the locations of the civilizations and will see how each group solved common human problems and met certain specific challenges.