

Classroom Policies

Mrs. Kerrn

What Supplies do I need for this course?

- a. notebook for this class only
- b. a pen or pencil everyday
- c. a folder to store and carry handouts
- d. Textbook, novel, and/or handouts for daily lessons
- e. Your assignment notebook!

What is expected of me?

- a. RESPECT other people and their property, not just me and your classmates but substitutes, librarians, custodians, etc....
- b. Be here and on time!
- c. Do your own work. Anyone caught cheating or enabling a cheater will receive a zero and their parents will be contacted. Cheating includes plagiarism.
- d. Get involved in class discussions! This is not required but enthusiastically encouraged!
- e. Turn in class assignments when they are due, late work will only be accepted one day after the due date and will be lowered in points.
- f. If you miss a day, do not come ask me what is due, please look in your classes absence folder and see me if you have additional questions.
- g. Ask for help anytime! I am available after school if you need any help with schoolwork.
- h. Remember you are here to learn; we will have fun in this class, but please do not interfere with classroom learning. Some of these interruptions may include, talking while others are talking, sleeping, goofing around, completing other homework, etc.....

If you fail to follow these policies, one or more of the following consequences will apply: 1.) verbal warning 2.) Conference after class 3.) Parent contact and detention 4) referral to dean's office
